TUESDAY, OCTOBER 30, 1866.

MR. CLYMER is said to want to be Surveyor of the Port of Philadelphia.

MR. WM. D. KELLEY, of Philadelphia, is making political speeches in Illinois.

THE Avalanche claims that Memphis has from sixty to seventy thousand inhabitants.

NORRISTOWN, Lebanon, Lancaster and Williamsport have each had a number of cases of cholera.

MRS. GENERAL GRANT is a granddaughter of the Rev. Mr. Wrenshall, the first Methodist local preacher licensed west of the Ohio, and well known in the early history of Pittsburgh.

IN New South Wales there are four companies engaged in manufacturing kerosene from shale. The production runs from forty or fifty gallons of oil to a ton of shale, and the process is so cheap as to render the business decidedly remunerative.

THE Wheeling Intelligencer estimates that of the Legislature of West Virginia chosen on Thursday last, 7 Senators are Union, 1 Democrat, and 5 doubtful; of the Representatives, 42 Union, 13 Democrats. It is, therefore, probable the Legislature will ratify the Constitutional amendment.

YESTERDAY we inserted a communication from a valued friend recommending Mr. Samuel A. Purviance for the post of United States Senator. In the course of the day we learned that the movement was without his knowledge, and that he totally declines being considered in the list of candidates.

DR. DAVIN HULTSE, of New Albany, Ia., has commenced suit to recover three hundred acres of land, situated in the heart of the city of New York, from Trinity Church. He claims that his grandfather was the owner of this land; that one Bogardus held it by lease; that after the death of the elder Hultze, Bogardus executed a quit claim to Trinity; and that this is all the title that corporation has for that property.

MR. A. H. STEPHENS recommends the Georgia Legislature to adopt the Constitutional Amendment. The October elections are producing a sedative effect both South and North, on all truculent individuals except President JOHNSON and a few of his brigade. His case was admirably described by WENDELL PHILLIPS last week, in his Cooper Institute speech, thus:

"I never read one of his speeches, I never heard of one of his acts that I was not reminded of a story I have read of the manner the Russian peasants on the outermost provinces of Russia have of killing the bear. These peasants are too poor to buy muskets, and the bear's hide is impervious to any arrows they can make, so the hunters practice upon the bear's credulity. The bear loves honey and will do anything to obtain it. So they go to an empty bees' nest and fasten a peg above a hole where the bees have built, and from this peg they hang a cannon ball or large stone, and when the bear comes to push his head in for the honey he moves the stone and it comes back upon him with force. Angry at the blow he gives it another toss and it returns on him with stronger force. He raises himself again, and in his rage he pushes the moving pendulum with greater strength, but back it comes with additional momentum, when it swings around the whole circle, to use a late phrase. Well, now, Vermont was a good blow, but Maine was better. Ohio was appalling but Indiana was terrific, and Pennsylvania was a settler. [Great Laughter.] When Massachusetts and New York, and Illinois, and all the rest of the States swing in the circle we will have no fear of that individual obstacle."

His office and residence is No. 132 Grant street, Pittsburgh Pa.

Hints to Buyers.

In selecting a house from which to make your purchases no matter in what branch of trade buyers will always find it to their advantage to give the preference to those houses that carry large stocks and receive their goods direct from headquarters. Firms that transact their business in that manner are enabled to sell at low rates, and consequently, command a large trade.

The Drug business of this city is ably represented in the above manner by the well-known firm of McClarran & McKennan, 85 Market street, who, in the markets have all the advantages accruing from ready capital, and a large acquaintance among Eastern merchants, importers and manufacturers, and the forward position occupied by this house to-day is altogether owing to the above advantages properly used. Our readers we hope will bear in mind the above facts when they desire Pure Drugs, Medicines and Medicinal Liquors, at something like reasonable rates.

Is it Safe.

We are frequently asked this question by those who desire to have teeth extracted with Nitrous Oxide or Laughing Gas, and we unhesitatingly reply: Yes, it is safe when it is administered by a scientific dentist, physician or surgeon, all of whom use it in their practice with the highest success, but Drs. Sill & Gillespie, Dentists, No. 246 Penn street, (opposite Christ M. E. Church) have extracted teeth with the Gas for thousands of patients, embracing many distinguished clergymen and other prominent citizens, and without a single accident, and all have testified that the operation was not only painless, but that the gas was pleasant.

The leading Dental and Medical journals of the country now admit that the gas is the best anæsthetic for teeth drawing; best, because enough can be given to produce entire insensibility, without danger; best, because it is pleasant to breathe, producing no disagreeable sensations, and leaving the system entirely in two or three minutes; best, because it will succeed where Chloroform and Ether have been tried in vain; best because the most delicate, nervous and feeble persons can breathe it with safety; best, because with most it renders tooth drawing a pleasure.

The Hon. A. K. McClure, editor of the Chambersburg Repository, pays the following compliment to the introduction of this great blessing of the age. He says: "We recently tested, personally, the use of the Nitrous Oxide Gas, in a dental operation, and feel that we can not too highly commend it to persons who must undergo painful operations. An inflamed root of a tooth that had defied our best dentists, mainly because the preliminary operation of getting a hold on it sufficient to extract it, would have been too painful to be borne, was taken out in one minute from the time we took the chair. The gas is entirely harmless when pure, the effect of it when inhaling it is pleasant, and the most nervous persons can take it without any disagreeable results. But a few seconds are required to produce insensibility; in one minute it usually passes off entirely, and the patient feels none of the unpleasant sensations in the head, or the nausea often produced by ether."

Drs. Sill & Gillespie are well known throughout western Pennsylvania and eastern Ohio, as practical and scientific Dentists, to whom we recommend our readers for manipulation at their hands, whenever they require any dental operation. They manufacture the best, most perfect, durable and elegant teeth ever produced. Their facilities are extensive, and entire satisfaction is always given in every case. Remember, Drs. Sill & Gillespie, No. 246 Penn street, opposite Christ M. E. Church.

FROM WASHINGTON.

The Reduction of Quartermaster's Clerks' Pay—Important Decision Relative to Canned Oysters, Fruit, &c.—Gen. Sweeney to be Reinstated in the Regular Army—Monthly Report of the Agricultural Commissioners with Cereal Exhibits—Crops Larger Than Ever Known in This Country.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—The following are the disbursements of the Treasury Department for the week ending Saturday, October 27th: On account of War Department, $2,263,180; Navy Department, $607,279; Interior Department, $80,429. Total, $3,190,888.

A committee, consisting of the employees of the Quartermaster's Department, waited upon the President this morning for the purpose of obtaining from him a reply to their petition in relation to the reduction of their pay. The President dissents from the reasons of the Quartermaster General for the reduction, and in a communication to the Secretary of War, requests him at once to designate competent officers as a board to make inquiries and report to the War Department the rates which should be allowed. This order, he adds, will apply to the two petitions accompanying the application to which these instructions refer, and will, for the present, operate against any reduction of wages by employers, in whose interests they have been presented.

The following is the decision of the Treasury Department relative to taxes upon canned meats, vegetables, &c: By the amendatory act of July 13th, 1866, a stamp duty is imposed upon every can, bottle, or other single package containing meats, fish, shell fish, fruits, vegetables, sauces, syrups, prepared mustards, jams, or jellies, contained therein and packed or sealed, made for sale, or removed for consumption in the United States, on or after the 1st day of October, 1866.

While it is believed it was the purpose and interest of Congress to impose the stamp tax upon the above named, if sold or offered for sale, or removed for consumption, in the United States on or after October 1st, 1866, regardless of the time of their manufacture or production, that the intent is so imperfectly expressed as to render it doubtful whether, under a proper construction of the language of the statutes, such a tax can be collected. Internal revenue officers are, therefore, instructed not to interfere with the possession or sale of such articles of domestic manufacture or production when satisfactory evidence is furnished that they were prepared and packed in the possession of the producer prior to the first day of October. Oysters and other shell fish are often removed from the shells, and packed in cans, by a process for their preservation, are packed in a raw state, in tin or other vessels for the sole purpose of transportation in ice. When put up in this manner, and for this purpose only, they are not regarded as canned within the meaning or intent of the law, and no stamp will be required thereon.

Articles named in Schedule C, when imported or of foreign manufacture, are liable to the stamp tax, in addition to the import duties thereon, but, however, such imported articles, except playing-cards, lucifer matches, cigar light, and wax tapers, are sold, in original and unbroken packages in which the bottler, packer or manufacturer put up the manufacturer, the person selling them is not subject to any penalty on account of the want of a proper stamp; but when such packages are broken, or the contents changed in any circumstances, be offered or exposed for sale until they have been appropriately stamped.

The Paymaster General, Thomas Sweeny, it is said, will be restored to his former rank in the United States Army on his own application.

The monthly report of Isaac Newton, Commissioner of Agriculture, says: Returns of the local correspondents up to the 1st of October verify in all essential particulars the statements respecting the crops contained in previous monthly exhibits. The condition of corn has suffered some deterioration from early frosts and excessive rains, but the crops are larger than ever previously chronicled in the country. In the production of wheat next to corn, our agricultural interests, as a general rule, have been unfortunate for the present year, now nearly complete. The yield will not vary much from 160,000,000 bushels, showing a small percentage increase, which is fully compensated by the comparatively superior quality of the grain, as was predicted in a previous report. The yield of oats will exceed that of 1865, and is within 5,000,000 of a product in proportion to the increased population. The diminution in the south is more apparent. The estimates point to more than 17,000,000 bushels in the eleven States, heretofore unrepresented, a fraction less than the crop of 1859.

The California wheat harvest, of which little note has been publicly made in connection with the present crop, is exceeding the yield of 1865, when the crop of that State was nearly 6,000,000 bushels. Now it is claimed by leading California agriculturists that the present export will be nearly double that quantity.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—It is evident that the entire wheat crop will exceed by several million bushels that of 1859, when the yield was reported at 173,104,924 bushels, or 5½ bushels per head and a half bush to each individual. In 1866 the estimates point to five bushels to each inhabitant. There is no ground, then, for apprehensions of scarcity, but rather increase in the amount of the crop for starvation prices. The yield of oats is extraordinary, and the indications are that the estimates point to an increase from 171,497,075 bushels in 1859 to 271,912,695 bushels in 1866. It is the only crop in the south that maintains an equality with the previous year. Rye is less in quantity than in the previous year by from one to two tenths, but is better in quality.

An analysis of the returns up to October 1st, does not warrant a reduction of the former cotton estimate much below 1,750,000 bales, though it is too early for the small estimate. The surety of the damage from insects is reported as increasing.

The New York Times on Mexican Affairs.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—The Times of this morning says: It cannot be doubted that the Government of Juarez has already sought the aid of the United states in its efforts to re-establish the authority over the unending factions that will arise upon the ruins of the Empire. Unless the reports already received from Washington are at fault, the President has indicated his own willingness to enter upon such arrangement, and is disposed to send to the Rio Grande forces for the purpose. If such a step should be deemed advisable, a force of at least 20,000 men under General Grant or some other officer of high rank and reputation, clothed with power and the means to meet all the exigencies of such enterprise. She has abundant resources for this, as well as to secure us for whatever guaranties it might be wise for us to give for the payment of the debts due to Spain and France, which were made the pretext for the recent invasion of her soil and independence. Even if we were to assume the direct payment of these debts, not, of course, including those of the Empire, which we have never acknowledged, and for which France can have no valid claim, the per cent. could be collected at Mexican ports already pledged to foreign powers, and which would be transferred to us, would be ample for this object.

The Killing of Henry Hedderick—Conclusion of the Coroner's Inquest—Complete Report of the Evidence Adduced—Verdict of the Jury.

Coroner William Clawson yesterday afternoon concluded, at the Mayor's office, the inquest held upon the body of Mr. Henry Heddrick, who was fatally shot on Tuesday night last, on Fifth street, in front of the Theatre, by the negro Thomas Smith. It is too bad that through the technicalities of the law the black assassin will escape capital punishment, as he is worthy such a fate if ever man was. It appears from the evidence that Mr. Heddrick was acting peacemaker at the time he received the fatal bullet. But here is the evidence:

James Richardson, sworn—Am an independent police officer; was in Williams' saloon on Tuesday night of the murder, and heard three pistol shots in succession. Heddrick stumbled into the door with his hands upon his bowels. I started out and pursued the negro up Wood street, in which direction the crowd was running. When I got as far as the Academy of Music on Liberty street, met some men coming back with the prisoner Smith. At the head of Wood street officer Herron and myself took charge of the prisoner, and brought him to the tombs; handed prisoner to the Captain of the watch; prisoner acknowledged to me that he had done the shooting, and said, "This is the first time I ever shot a man." Mr. Lagard produced the pistol in the tombs, and the prisoner owned that it was his.

Ewerry Lagard, sworn—Board at 202 Lacock street, Allegheny; went to Pittsburgh Theatre on the Tuesday night of the shooting. After the performance was over a couple of young gentlemen and myself left and went down Fifth street towards Wood; went along Wood street, and was near Bown's hardware establishment, when I heard pistol shots on Fifth street. One of the men remarked to me that they had not yet got done playing at the Theatre. I walked a few steps further along and heard a man hallooing "stop that man;" turned around and saw the flash of a pistol on the corner of Fifth and Wood streets; saw a man running up Wood street. Ran after him, then got into the gutter and picked up a paving stone and threw it at him as he passed me, but did not hit him. I then picked up a stone on the pavement and run after him as he came to Liberty and up Liberty street. He crossed the street near the Academy of Music, or the Second National Bank, and entered Hand and Liberty streets. I followed him across and threw a paver (stone) after him, striking him in the back. After I threw it he turned about with a revolver in his hand and pointed it at me; I halted then and he dropped his arm and again flew up Liberty street. Before he got to the middle of Hand street I caught up with him and seized him by the arms; I then hallooed that he had a pistol in his hand; there was a crowd coming up near us. He then said he would give up, as he was afraid of the law. He fell to the ground and I twisted the revolver out of his hand. Two gentlemen and myself brought him down Liberty street to Wood street, where we handed him into the hands of two police officers; I followed him down to the Station House (tombs); I gave the pistol to Capt. Lewis, marking it before I gave it up.

Officer John Herron, sworn—Was standing on the Theatre steps on the Tuesday evening of the shooting; saw Mr. Henry Heddrick, of Sheffield street, talking to a friend who had just about left me at the time; heard the report of a pistol and stepped down on the pavement. Heard a second report, and started some three or four steps towards Williams. After the third report I saw a heavy set man about the centre of the street, one of the shoemakers, throw both hands over his stomach and stagger back towards William's tavern door. I was then near the centre and I think he had fell off as he fell back. I did not want to look at him after he staggered back; saw a colored man with no hat run into the middle of the street. I run after him; he then turned and turned into Wood. At this time I was running after him, he ran up Wood to Liberty, and when I got there I opposed the Academy of Music, he was in the custody of a number of men. Coming into the mouth of Wood street he was given in charge of officer Richardson and myself, and we brought him to the watch house, there giving prisoner into the custody of the Captain of the watch. There was a revolver handed to Captain Lewis which prisoner acknowledged as his. He acknowledged the shooting; don't think prisoner was aware of having shot deceased till he was informed of it after he was in the watch house. Think Heddrick was at Williams' first window, while the flash was about Baker's tobacco store.

Philip Denel, sworn—Live in Union Alley, Birmingham; was on Fifth street the night of the murder; was in Baker's cigar store, and heard somebody behind me say, "you had better not strike me," or, "I don't want you to strike me;" turned round and saw two men in the pavement, in front of the upper Theater gas lamp; am sure one of them was a colored man; heard the other say something about apologizing, and the blow was struck; the darkey then turned around and walked about five paces into the crowd; towards Wood street and turning came back again; saw the man who struck the blow; he had been talking to him came up and struck the black man twice; the darkey staggered against a woman, think she was colored, who was standing on the pavement; then ran forward (the darkey) with his head down as though striving to avoid blows. He stopped at the lower end of the pavement, and was in the middle of the pavement there were four or five men standing along by the window. There saw the flash of a pistol pointed in towards the window; heard the darkey's hand on the wall and struck; the darkey then faced up Fifth street and fired again, I stopped as I thought he was firing at me; before I got up he came past me, I then had my back to him; saw a pistol, which I suppose was in consequence of his trying to get out of the crowd; he then ran down street with a crowd of men after him; don't believe I could recognize either of the men who quarrelled on Fifth street; I went over to the opposite side and a light colored negro came over holding his wrist and said, "g—d—m him he shot me twice;" he laid down on the boards and asked that somebody go for a doctor; I then heard somebody say that there was a white man in Williams's who had been shot; some negro women then crowded round the negro and made some wild crying and exclamations.

Mrs. Eliza Price, (colored) sworn—Live at Mrs. McCullough's, Second street; was at the Theatre on Tuesday night of the murder, after the performance was over, sarah Jane Clark and I started up street, and we turned round and went back after William Noble who was going to take me home; and in the meanwhile Thomas Smith was fussing on the pavement with some dark man who I seen strike Thomas Smith on the back of the head; am sure the man who struck Thomas Smith was not Noade Smith; Thomas then ran up to Noade Smith and, calling him a y flow son of a b—, asked him if he had struck him; he did not give him time to say no or yes till he shot him, and after he shot him through the wrist, he stepped back, and in stepping forward, shot him through the leg, and after he shot a second time the musician stepped in between to part them, and received a shot, after which he said "I am shot." I was close to them during the shooting, say about three feet. In the Theatre, Noade told his wife to get ready to go home, and Tom asked him what business he had telling her to go home. Noade told Thomas that he didn't think it was his business. I saw the musician step in between to part them. Noade shot two times after hitting the musician.

Sarah Jane Clarke, sworn.—I reside with Mrs. Lynn, on Craig street, Allegheny; was at the Theatre on Tuesday night of the murder. As I came out, some man, not Noade Smith, but a colored man, struck Tom Smith. With that Tom stepped back, and with an oath, asked Noade if he had struck him, and immediately shot him, who staggered; he again shot him in the thigh. Whether the white man stepped in between them or not I can't say, but he was shot at this time.

Mrs. Elizabeth Smith, sworn—Live at No. 39 Crawford street; I heard William Harris say that he and George Massey had struck Thomas Smith that night.

The evidence here rested and after consultation the jury returned the following verdict: "That the deceased, Henry Heddrick, came to his death from a wound inflicted by a bullet fired from a pistol in the hands of Thomas Smith, (colored) on Tuesday evening, October 23d, 1866."

Meeting of City Councils.

The regular monthly meeting of the City Councils was held last evening at their chambers in the City building.

SELECT COUNCIL.

Present—Messrs. Armstrong, Barckley, Brown, Cousin, Lowe, Morrow, McMillan, Phillips, Shipton, Thompson, Wilson, White, and President McAuley.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

Mr. Barckley presented a communication from Messrs. Kearney and Goodwin, praying for the paving of Wylie from Fulton to Crawford streets, in the Sixth ward. Adopted.

Also, communication from John Harper relative to a leaky fire plug on Liberty street, by which his tenants, Messrs. Kirkpatrick and Bell, have been damaged. Referred to the Water Committee.

The President submitted a communication for the City Controller, authorizing the payment of bills for lamps erected by him and E. S. Morrow, the former amounting to $19.60, and the latter to $25.00.

The Controller also asked the transfer of $1,500 from Wharf Appropriation, $1,000 to Monongahela Wharf Appropriation, and $1,500 to Printing, said funds being exhausted. The Controller stated that it is probable that a transfer will be necessary to the Night Police Fund by some four or five thousand dollars, and one or two thousand dollars for the Fire Department, to enable him to fully pay bills. From present appearances the years estimate of expenditures will exceed appropriation from ten to fifteen thousand dollars.

The report from the committee appointed to inquire into the expediency of ratifying the city contract with Graff, Bennet & Co., engaged Capt. J. S. Slagle, City Solicitor, at the price stipulated by Councils, and have also contracted with Graff & Anderson to print five hundred copies per copy.

The report was read, accepted and referred to the Finance Committee with instructions to make an appropriation to pay the expense incurred by the contract early in the ensuing year.

Mr. Morrow offered a resolution directing the Street Commissioner to have a fence grating Shoenberger & Co. the right to erect tele graph poles from their mills in the Fifth ward to their warehouses on Water street. Passed.

Also, resolution granting Moorhead & Co. a similar right was also passed.

The report of the City Controller was called up and read. It embraces the receipts and expenses from Finance to Allegheny wharf, $1,000 from Gas to Monongahela wharf, and $500 from Water to Printing.

On motion adjourned.

COMMON COUNCIL.

Present—Messrs. Beck, Boggs, Bush, Ford, Hare, Killen, Mawhinney, McEwen, McQuewan, McCullough, Ogden, Patchell, Robinson, Robbins, Simpson, Torbey, Vernier, Welsh and Steel, President.

The minutes of the preceding meeting were read and approved.

Mr. Ogden presented a petition from property holders on Diamond alley, between Wood street and the Diamond, praying that action be taken to have the alley paved. Referred to the Street Committee.

Mr. Torbey offered a resolution directing the Committee on Streets to inquire by what authority Cherry alley, between Seventh street and Penn alley, is used as a market house, and if without authority of the city ordinance, that the Street Commissioner be instructed to take measures to have the same removed. Adopted.

Mr. Robbins presented petitions for the erection of public gas lamps in the following localities: Fifth street, between Wood and Fulton streets; one on Northeast corner of Logan and Webster streets; one on the corner of Townsend and Webster streets, between Logan and Fulton streets. Read and referred to the Committee on Gas.

Mr. Brush presented a communication from the Central Board of Education, requesting Councils to appoint a committee of three to a conference with said Board. The communication was accepted, and Messrs. Ford and Mellon were appointed on the part of C.C.

Mr. Brush also moved that he proposed to offer at the next regular meeth g of Councils, an ordinance dividing the Sixth ward into two election districts, by a line commencing at the river, at the mouth of Logan street, and continuing along said street to Pennsylvania avenue—the first precinct, west of Logan street, to contain the Police Station House, the second precinct, east of Logan street, to vote at some suitable place on Fulton street. The ward, as it now stands, polls 1,250 votes, and it is deemed necessary to have it divided into two election districts.

Mr. Welsh offered a resolution instructing the Street Commissioner to have lamps erected at the following places: One in centre of square, between Clymer and Smith streets, on Penn; one on the northeast corner of Penn and Pear streets; one on Penn street, between Smith and Taylor streets; one on the northwest corner of Penn and Taylor streets; one on the southwest corner of Smith and Braddock streets; and one on the northwest corner of Smith and Butler streets. Read and referred to Committee on Gas.

Mr. Welsh also presented the bill for erecting lam

RAILROADS TO THE PACIFIC.

A fortnight ago to-day a party of excursionists passed through this city westward to attend the opening of the "Union Pacific Railroad" to the one hundreth degree of west longitude. Last night another party of excursionists, joined by gentlemen here, went to celebrate the opening of the "Union Pacific Railway, Eastern Division," to Fort Riley, in Kansas. The similarity in the titles and aims of these two roads, has led to some confusion in the popular apprehension respecting them, which we propose doing somewhat to remove.

The "Union Pacific Railroad Company" is organized exclusively under acts of Congress. Its vocation is to build a railroad from the western boundary of Iowa, at Omaha, towards the Pacific ocean, until it shall meet the line of the "Central Pacific Railroad of California." The latter company was originally empowered to build a railroad eastward to the boundary of California. Now, it is authorized to go on into Nevada or Utah, until it shall meet the "Union Pacific." To each of these companies Congress has granted a subvention of sixteen thousand dollars a mile for every mile of road actually completed and put in operation. In addition, the Government grants them "every alternate section of public land, designated by odd numbers, to the amount of ten alternate sections per mile, on each side of said railroad, on the line thereof, and within the limits of twenty miles on each side of said road, not sold, reserved, or otherwise set aside by the United States, or to which a pre-emption or homestead claim may not have attached at the time the line of the road is definitely fixed." These two companies are virtually engaged in one great enterprise, which is to build a continuous line of railroad between the Missouri river and tide-water on the Pacific side. Whichever of them shall construct the most miles of this line will get the most Government bonds and and the most sections of land.

There is a present difficulty with this line. The roads connecting Omaha with the railroad system east of the Mississippi are not yet complete. There are five of these. 1. The Cedar Rapids and Missouri River; 2. The Mississippi and Missouri Railroad, which is the Iowa arm of the Chicago and Rock Island Railroad; 3. The Burlington and Missouri River Railroad, the Iowa arm of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad; 4. The Council Bluffs and St. Josephs Railroad, connecting with the Hannibal and St. Josephs and Northern Missouri from St. Louis; and, 5. The Dubuque and Sioux City Railroad, which is pointing that way. Two of these connections will certainly be made in the course of next summer. In addition the American Central Railway, to run on an air-line from Fort Wayne to Omaha, has been projected, and a company formed in French hands. The continued inactivity, however, in respect to it, leaves not much room for hope.

The "Union Pacific Railway, Eastern Division," is a State organization. It was originally empowered to construct a railroad from the western terminus of the Missouri Pacific Railroad, at the eastern boundary of Kansas, to an intersection of the Union Pacific Railroad on the one hundredth meridian. In aid of this work Congress grants precisely the same value of bonds per mile and the same amount of lands as to the companies previously named. By an act of Congress, passed at the last session, the company constructing this road was authorized to connect with the "Union Pacific" at any point between the hundredth degree of longitude, and the longitude of Denver, in Colorado, which is a trifle west of the one hundredth and fifth meridian. The proviso attached to this permision is that "the said company shall be entitled to only the same amount of the bonds of the United States to aid in the construction of this line of railroad and telegraph as they would have been entitled to if they had connected their line with the Union Pacific Railroad on the one hundreth degree of longitude." This raises a conjecture in the minds of all who are familiar with the map of North America, whether they mean to connect at all. The one hundredth meridian is the material point for intersection, if such a result was designed, but if the grant of Congress, particularly in lands, is so liberal, and the prospect of a population following the lines of these roads so good, as to warrant the speedy completion of two independent roads, the public have no reason to complain. Half the land contained in a belt forty miles wide, and long enough to span two-thirds of the continent, is an inducement of no light magnitude.

Before going farther it is necessary to show how this "Eastern Division" is connected with St. Louis. The "Pacific Railroad of Missouri," built by a State organization, extends from St. Louis to the east line of Kansas, at or near Kansas City, and there unites with the "Union Pacific Railway, Eastern Division," making now a continuous line from St. Louis to Fort Riley. This "Pacific Railroad of Missouri" is of peculiar guage, unlike any other in the western country, being five feet and six inches. Hence, until it shall be contracted, as it doubtless will be, changes of freight and passengers are unavoidable both at St. Louis and Kansas City. On the other hand, the guage of the "Union Pacific," is four feet eight inches and a half, which corresponds with the width of the Pennsylvania Central and the connecting roads between Pittsburgh and Omaha, and compromise cars run through.

Why the said "Division" is called "Eastern" is somewhat a puzzle in nomenclature, as it might more properly be called "Southern."

Now, let us see how far these lines have been respectively pushed westward. St. Louis is nearly on the ninetieth meridian. Fort Riley, to which the opening of the "Eastern Division" is now made, is situated at about ninety-six degrees and forty minutes west longitude. Omaha is about on the ninety-sixth meridian, and the "Union Pacific" is now in operation to the one hundredth degree of west longitude. The present terminus of the "Union Pacific" is, therefore, three degrees and twenty minutes farther west than the present terminus of the "Eastern Division."

Unquestionably the advantages in respect to connections with roads leading to the Atlantic coast are now with the "Eastern Division," and will remain with it until the more northerly roads shall be completed to Omaha. But three months will suffice to finish some of these connecting links. What the advantages of the respective routes are westward of the existing termini cannot be determined as long as so essential an element in the calculation is wanting as the western terminus of the "Eastern Division." If it shall be made on the hundredth meridian, at the point of intersection with the "Union Pacific," then the computation will be comparatively easy. If it shall be on the meridian of Denver, then the balance would seem to be clearly in favor of the "Union Pacific." If it shall be on the western slope of the Rocky Mountains, at a point of junction with the "Central Pacific Railroad of California," then the problem is manifestly perplexed; for it may well be doubted if either company has definitely determined where it will cross the Mountains: or if final estimates or even surveys have been commenced.

Each of these lines, if they shall cross the Mountains separately, will become main trunks, to which numerous lateral branches will be ultimately attached, and each will have special advantages in this regard. The "Eastern Division" will surely receive lines from Texas and New Mexico, while the "Union Pacific" will take affluents from Dakota, Montana and Wyoming. For the through traffic, whether in freight or passengers, they will necessarily compete. This competition, so far as it is already developed, is best symbolized by the two words Chicago and St. Louis. Whatever portions of the Atlantic seaboard find readiest access to, and recess from, the farther West, through Chicago will give the preference to the "Union Pacific," while those portions which find St. Louis readiest will prefer the "Eastern Division" By these two routes the Eastern and Middle portions of the Atlantic coast will be well accommodated.

If immediate competition shall be sharp between them they will not have long to wait before there will be enough for both. The opening of railroads between the two oceans will make accessible the incalculable wealth hidden away from the creation in the midland portions of the continent. Emigration will be quickened. A teeming population will, in the space of a few years, cover the great plains and fill the slopes and gorges of the mountains. Nor is this all. Over these railroads the principal traffic, not only between China and North America, but between China and Europe, is destined to pass. These tracks must become highways for many nations. Over them the choicest products of Continents must be exchanged. On them the East and the West will clasp hands, and oriental and occidental civilizations blend, retaining what is valuable in each. Whatever rivalries may attend their construction will be banished in the full ultimate satisfaction of both.

English Fox Hunting.

An English magazine discourses as follows on the charms of fox hunting:

"One of the greatest charms of fox hunting undoubtedly is, that it disposes of all the dirty weather which goes to make up three-fourths of an English winter. Wet and drizzle, and muggy fog, the characteristics of our brumous and insular climate, according to numerous French authorities, are the capital on which it trades. To the hunting man a rainy morning in winter, which to most other country folk can promise nothing better than a long yawn with book or newspaper in hand, and a prospect over a miserable stretch of sudden country, means sport, and society, and enjoyment. It is nothing to him that the ground rides sadale-clinch deep, and that he is splashed with mud from head to foot, so long as the scent is good. He will only enjoy the more by contrast of the charms of his own fireside, when he has cast his slough, and makes his appearance in the drawing room before dinner, hungry, and happy, and a little tired. This, indeed, to my mind, constitutes one of the principal benefits which accrue from fox hunting, considered in an ethical light. It enables certain rich people occasionally to realize some of the conditions of poorer humanity, to feel themselves, if only for a short time, to be men, and not only lords or squires or great merchants and manufacturers. When he gets off his horse after a long wet day in the clays, my lord is very much in the same draggle-tailed condition in which his laborer Hodge is, just emerging from the ozzing ditch, in which he has been engaged for some hours plashing a fence. The hardness which it necessitates, together with a small amount of danger that accompanies it, takes fox hunting out of the category of tame sports, such as battue shooting, for example; than which I know not any amusement more despicable and inane. And one of the least favorable signs of the times, to my mind, is the increasing fondness of the noble and wealthy for this latter sport, if sport we must call it. For the spirit of civilization and refinement which has exercised from the higher ranks of the community, drunkenness and swearing, and that roughness which still had something of hardihood in it, is not an unmixed gain in society, if the English mind is to be emasculated thereby, and losing its coarseness, is to lose also its manliness and self-reliance.—Macmillian's Magazine, for October.

Conspiracy Against the Life of Napoleon.

The Berlin correspondent of the London Times, under date of October 8th says:

"We all remember those days of anxiety in the beginning of July, when the Emperor Napoleon, having been appealed to by a defeated Kaiser, hesitated as to the course he should pursue. We all felt it a great relief, when, determining for neutrality, he promoted the speedy restoration of peace, instead of plunging Europe into prolonged war, as he was requested. His motives have since been candidly explained by himself, and their wisdom and sagacity universally appreciated. I do not apprehend it will prejudice his Majesty in the opinion of the world when I say that, in addition to the more public and political reasons which actuated him on that memorable occasion, he was influenced by a piece of private and highly interesting intelligence communicated to him about that time. On the 6th of July the Grand Duke of Saxe Weimar was in a position to advise Napoleon III. of the existence of an Italian conspiracy, consisting of a number of young men who had sworn to take his life were the recovery of Venice prevented by his interference. The investigations immediately set on foot by the secret police of France confirmed the statement volunteered by the Weimar potentate. My informant supposes, but it is not certain, that the latter derived his knowledge from persons of high trust at this court."

An Incident.

As a train of cars was approaching the suspension bridge near Niagara, the conductor found a young man who could not pay his fare. The poor fellow was evidently in the last stages of consumption, and emaciated to skeleton proportions. He sat by himself, and his eyes were red as though he had been weeping; but the laws of the company could not be transgressed, and he must leave the train. Not a person moved or spoke as the conductor led him from his seat, all shivering with the cold, but just as he reached the door a beautiful girl arose from her seat, and with bright, sparkling eyes demanded the amount charged for the poor invalid. The conductor said eight dollars, and the young and noble girl took that sum from her pocket book, and kindly led the sick youth back to his seat. The action put to shame several men who had witnessed it, and they offered to "pay half," but the wholesouled woman indignantly refused the assistance. When the train arrived in this city the young protectress gave the invalid money enough to keep him over night and send him to his friends the next morning. —Albany Argus.

—People's notions of beauty differ. Tamerlane's wife, who had no nose, was thought a belle by her contemporaries. A patrician of Venice had a scurvy little proboscis, and that was held of itself a sufficient disqualification for the Doge's cap and ring. Cicero admired the squinting eye, such as Greek sculptors often gave to Venus, and Minerva was sometimes figured with a complexion as dusky as any Gipsy wife on Epsom Downs. Some of the Greeks held blue eyes to be hideous, and Dioscorides tells us that they had an art—the same practiced, perhaps, centuries afterward, at Donnybrook fair—of making them black. Hunchbacks have had their admirers, who contend that the dorsel curvature is the true line of beauty, and that the hump, so far from being a deformity, "as dull fools suppose," is in itself a graceful ornament.

The Head of Richelieu.

The Paris correspondent of the London Star, says:

It appears that some of the Richelieu family papers have lately come to light, and have revealed the fact that the great Cardinal's head was preserved apart from his body. The question arose, what had become of it? The Emperor ordered search to be made, and desired that no expense should be spared in the effort to recover this treasure. After many months of patient research, the head was found yesterday in the possession of an ancient family of Bretagne. It was forwarded last night, (October 4th) to the Ministere de Linstruction Publique.

A friend of mine was present at the opening of the box. I give you his description verbatim. The head is in a wonderful state of preservation—the whiskers, eyebrows, the imperial and moustache, of a reddish color and quite perfect; one eyelid closed, the other half open. The flesh, of course, black. Cela va sans dire. Altogether, it presents the appearance of a mask, but far from unpleasing. A telegraphic message was dispatched to the Emperor in the following words: "What is to be done with the defunct Cardinal?" His Majesty's reply had not come when my friend left the Ministere. The fear is that orders will be given that his Eminence is to have decent burial, which would be a pity.

Living and dead he was, and is, an enigma, and as we have the jaw of Moliere to stare at, we might be allowed to gaze at his eminence likewise. I should like to know how he felt whirling along by special train. As he rested his aching head on the velvet cushions of his gilded barge, and glided in stately pomp down the Loire to Lyons, followed by his doomed prisoners, the courtier Croy Mois, and the witty De Thou, great would have been his amazement could a prophet have told him that centuries later the same head would come up to Paris at the pace of forty miles per hour, in a common packing-case, at the fiat of an Emperor of France, whose ancestor at that period was a private gentleman of Corsica.

M. PEABODY'S fortune is variously estimated, and conjecture is busy trying to discover what he is worth. In 1851 he was numbered among the millionaire of London, and during the following ten years his business greatly increased. In 1860 he was said to be worth $15,000,000 in gold, and he has endowed various charities in the princely sum of $5,000,000. Mr. Peabody is now probably worth $10,000,000 or $15,000,000, for the increase of his property during the past six years has been considerable. Fortune has not smiled on him in vain, for seldom has so bountiful a giver been numbered among men.

A SHORT time since the following appeared among the clippings of the Courier:

Why is a beard like common sense? Because no woman possesses it.

At which a lady correspondent "goes for it" after the following fashion:

Why is the author of the above like a certain worn out instrument of music? Because he is an abandoned lyre—(liar.)

(ADDITIONAL LOCAL NEWS ON FIRST PAGE.)

Union Sabbath School Convention at Mansfield, Allegheny County.

The district included in this Convention was composed of the townships of Chartiers, Union, Lower and Upper St. Clair, Scott, North and South Fayette, Robinson and Snowden. The services were held in Mansfield village, in the Methodist Episcopal Church, on October 23d and 24th. Twenty-four schools were represented by seventy-four delegates, and most of the pastors living within the district were also present. Rev. Calhoun was chosen temporary chairman, who opened the Convention at 10 A. M., by reading the 100th Psalm, "All people that on earth do dwell," &c., which was sung to the tune of "Old Hundreth" by the congregation. After prayer by Rev. Dr. Davidson and a voluntary by the choir, the Dr., by previous invitation, delivered a pointed, well digested and eloquent sermon on the text "Train up a child," &c. Rev. Hutchinson led in prayer, and the choir sang the anthem, "Oh, praise God in His holiness." Convention then elected the following officers:

President—Rev. McPherson.

Vice Presidents—Rev. Kennedy, Rev. Finke, Rev. Hutchinson, Dr. Killikelly.

Secretaries—M. B. Brown, J. M. Fulmer, J. B. Borland, and S. S. Glass.

All the questions on the printed programme were thoroughly discussed. The result is embodied in the resolutions given below.

An interesting feature of the Convention was the singing of the children and the choir, and sermons to the children on the first day by Rev. Dr. Howard, and on the second day by Rev. Miller, Jr.

The Convention effected a permanent organization called "Chartier Valley Sabbath School Association and Institute," and elected the following officers for the ensuing year: Col. Hugh Lee, President; Rev. I. C. Boyd, Vice President; Executive Committee—Rev. Hutchinson, Chairman; Dr. Marshall, Rev. Calhoun, Rev. Marks, A. B. Young, M. B. Brown, Recording Secretary; I. B. Borland, Corresponding Secretary; Rev. Kennedy, Treasurer.

The Convention adjourned at 9 o'clock, P. M. on Wednesday, after instructing the Secretaries to prepare a letter to be addressed, through the papers, to the churches and schools included within the district.

The choir, composed of the young ladies and gents of the various churches, sang, in conclusion, the grand old anthem, "Praise God from Whom all blessings flow."

Only sixteen schools of the twenty-four represented presented reports. These report one hundred and thirty-nine officers and teachers, and eleven hundred and twenty-three scholars. Only ten schools reported the aggregate number of volumes in libraries, it being two thousand six hundred and eighteen volumes. Seven schools reported an aggregate of two hundred and fifty-five Sabbath School papers. Six schools report that they discontinue operations during the winter. Several schools report that there are many in their respective neighborhood who do not attend any Sabbath School. With these statistics the Committee offer the following resolution:

Resolved, That Sabbath School officers should carefully collect and preserve the statistics of their schools.

S. Y. KENNEDY,
Chairman of Committee.

The following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

1. Resolved, That the Sabbath School is a most valuable auxiliary to the church, an efficient instrument in the religious training of youth, and possesses the strongest claims upon christians and the christian church for moral and material support, as "the nursery of the church."

2. That no congregation should be without a well conducted Sabbath School; and in addition to the school or schools established for the children of the church and others in their midst, Mission Schools should be established in destitute localities, that thus religious instruction may be brought within the reach of all.

3. That it is the duty of the ministers, officers and members of the church to use their utmost efforts to gather the neglected youth of our country into the Sabbath School and furnish them that education which their perishing souls require.

4. That all christians be urged cheerfully and heartily to lend a helping hand in advancing the noble work in which the Sabbath Schools aim to accomplish, that they may thus obtain blessings upon themselves, be the means of blessing others, and honoring the Divine Redeemer "who gave himself for us."

5. That we consider piety an essential qualification for a good Sabbath School teacher; and that whatever practicables, only pious persons who have some "aptness to teach" should be sought as instructors in our Sabbath Schools.

6. That the great end of all Sabbath School instruction should be to acquaint the taught with the great truths of the Gospel, and lead them to the Lord Jesus Christ, the only savior, and for the attainment of this object the teacher should seek private interviews with the members of his class, toil them of the love of Jesus; pray for them and with them; visit them in sickness; provide, as far as possible, for their temporal wants when they are destitute, and in every proper way to manifest his sympathy for them and concern for their temporal and spiritual welfare.

7. That Superintendents and teachers be urged to furnish themselves with such helps in the form of Bible dictionaries, commentaries, and other books, as will aid them in their arduous but delightful work.

8. That where at all practicable Sabbath Schools should be kept open the entire year.

9. That we recognize the name "Sunday School" as liable to grave objections, and would express the hope that all the friends of the Institution would designate it by the more appropriate title "Sabbath School."

10. That we recommend the first Sabbath of December as a day of special prayer in behalf of Sabbath Schools, and that we invite the Pastors in the county to preach on that subject on that day.

Respectfully submitted,

J. C. BOYD, Chairman.

The following is the circular letter:

DEAR BRETHREN:—We herewith append a condensed report of our Sabbath School Convention. We ask for it a careful perusal. Of course this being our first meeting many things were not as perfectly done as we could wish, but we trust that all our friends will do everything they can to make our next meeting even more useful and interesting.

We believe that in a good degree our convention has accomplished its mission, viz: to awaken a deeper interest in Sabbath schools and churches in the Sabbath School cause, and the spiritual welfare of all the children of our communities.

We affectionately ask you all, each person, old or young, to do all you can to "feed the lambs"—to do canvass your neighborhood that all the children shall be brought under the influence and instruction of the Sabbath School; that all who can will be found either in the bible class, children's class, or engaged in teaching. Form neighborhood afternoon Sabbath Schools, and endeavor to do all the good you ban in this way.

We all have felt in our convention the great need there is for more life, zeal, devotedness and earnestness in our great work. "The harvest is great, but the laborers are few."

Especially would we have each member of the church ask, Am I called to work? Am I doing all I can? "Lord, what will Thou have me do?" Oh! who can doubt the reply, and who can calculate the good that would be accomplished through our friends, if the membership of the churches were all alive, working and zealous—striving each to do our whole duty to the church and the world.

A Funny Wedding.

The Wheeling Register says: North Wheeling is emphatically the eccentric part of the city. A short time ago we noticed the marriage of an ancient female to a modern male. Two other couple have come to our notice. A somewhat faded widow of forty-five winters was lately united in the holy bonds of wedlock to a young man of thirty summers, who said "he had never been married before." Their friends were invited to the marriage feast, which consisted of a keg of beer and a half bushel of pretzels. But here follows a scene that appeals with touching tenderness to the vibrating heartstrings of all loving swains. A mail—an old maid—of fifty-two summers, and winters, which had left their traces there who is possessed of three children, (this is in North Wheeling) was a few evenings since married to a good looking young man twenty-five years of age. A large party was present, some of whom were invited and some not. The repast consisted of cake—heavy sponge cake—cheese, beer, ale, some whisky in a jug under the table—and "stogies" for dessert. A bridesmaid and groomsman stood up with the gushing pair. In the loving arms of the fair old bride was a blooming girl of two summers, and when the bride would become embarrassed she would kiss the baby. But the "touchingest" scene of all was when the squire alluded to the love they must bear each other "through thick and thin"—she wilted, she wept, she sobbed aloud; and then the baby cried in its mother's arms; and then the young groom, his heart too full for utterance, tenderly entwined his arms around the bride and the baby, and bowed his head between them, and was only aroused to consciousness by baby pulling his hair. The squire then "finished" marrying them. They are happy now.

Bold Attempt at Burglary in Williamsport.

The Lycoming Gazette says that on Friday evening a bold effort was made to rob the "Lumberman's National Bank," of that place. The attempt would doubtless have proved successful, had not the robber been driven from his nefarious work by Thos. Smith, Esq., whose residence is directly in the rear of the bank building. Mr. S. was about retiring to bed, when a noise in the neighborhood of the bank attracted his attention, and in looking out of his window he observed a man of small stature working industriously at the bank window. Mr. Smith, after inquiring of the stranger his business and receiving no response, concluded that his mission there at that late hour, (11 o'clock,) was not an honest one, and after warning the man of his intention, fired at him from his revolver. At the report of the pistol the villain ran away, leaving behind a patent leather valise, together with a full and complete set of burglars' instruments, consisting of every article known to the profession, necessary to execute a villain's work. A fuse, intended, no doubt, to assist in blowing open the safe in the Bank was found in the kit of tools.

EARLY TELEGRAMS.

President Stephens About to Take the War Path—A Supposed Spy Badly Beaten—Resolutions to Avenge the Death of Convicted Fenians.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—A vast concourse of nearly five thousand people assembled yesterday, in Jones' woods, for the purpose of listening to an address by James Stephens, C. O. I. R., on the prospects of the approaching culmination of the Fenian affair. The speaker was greeted with the wildest enthusiasm, and experienced great difficulty in making himself heard to even the small circle of the assemblage who happened to be within the scope of his voice on account of their eagerness to crowd toward the stand. It was understood to be his last speech previous to departing for Ireland, where, he said, he would strike a blow for Ireland before the dawn of the new year. He remarked that much had already been done in Ireland. An army of fifty thousand men had been organized, the aristocratic tendency of her people republicanized, and, the nation taught not to respect the political dictation of her Catholic clergy. This latter he urged upon the crowd assembled, as the best blessing them to respect their spiritual advisers in all that appertains to their special calling. Efforts in the cause of Ireland had failed heretofore, he said, because of a want of sympathy and aid in America.

A disturbance occurred at the close of the meeting by the supposed discovery of a British spy, who was badly cut and beaten before he was recovered by the policemen, and proved to be innocent of the charge.

A meeting of the Fenian circles, at the German Assembly Rooms last night, resolved to avenge the death of the convicted Fenians in Canada, should they be executed, and dared the Canadians to carry their threats into execution.

The Baltimore Imbroglio—Secretaries Preparing Their Report.

PHILADELPHIA, October 24.—Dispatches from Washington indicate that Governor Swann will remove the present Police Commissioners. They will question the right of the Governor's authority, and carry the matter before the Court. The effect will be to have the matter postponed until after the election, and thus defeat Sir Swann's little game. Swann knows this, and it is asserted here that he will refuse to go before the Courts and will maintain his appointments by force, and if the radicals show sign of fight he will immediately call on President Johnson to send the United States troops he has promised to aid him.

The Secretaries are busily at work getting on their annual reports. The documents to accompany the navy report are already in the hands of the public printer, and some of the others are well under way. The law requires that all of them shall be in the hands of the printers thirty days before the meeting of Congress, but heretofore but little attention has been paid to this law except by the Navy Department, which is always ready in time. The last volume of the diplomatic correspondence of last year has not yet been printed.

Canada and the Fenian Prisoners—Meeting of Parliament Postponed—Militia to Patrol the Frontier.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—The Herald's Toronto special says: The military authorities have received orders to increase the guard at the jail where the Fenians are confined. The threats made by the Fenians of New York will compel the crown authorities to deal to-day the prisoners more severely than they otherwise would.

The prisoners confined here are all without a change of clothing. The American consul has supplied a few of them out of his own pocket, with new clothing.

Efforts are to be made by the Right Rev. Bishop Lynch, of this city, to get the Rev. J. MacMahon reprieved.

A Cabinet meeting is called to meet at Ottawa, on the 30th inst., to consider what policy Government should take in regard to carrying into effect the execution of the Fenian prisoners sentenced to be hanged.

The meeting of Parliament has been postponed by the Governor General until December 15th. It is rumored that the government business ordering out the militia to patrol the frontier until after the execution.

Gen. Averill Gone to Canada—General Sweeny—Refusal to Salute the Fenian Flag.

NEW YORK, October 29.—The Herald's Washington special says: Gen. Averill, Consul General of the United States in Canada, has been in the city several days, and after an interview with the President left Washington to assume the performance of his official duties. Matters in Canada are becoming of grave importance, and it is the wish of the President that the representatives of the Government should be there at the earliest practical period.

General Thomas W. Sweney, late Consul, will be restored to his former rank in the United States army, on his own application.

The commander of our squadron in Peruvian waters has refused to salute the Peruvian flag when displayed on the flagship of their fleet, on the ground, it is stated, that the commander of the fleet, Admiral Rosey, had served in the rebel navy during the late insurrection. The matter has been referred by the Secretary of the Navy to the Secretary of State for his decision.

—Says the New York Shipping List:

A decision in the United States Circuit Court (Judge Smalley presiding), of more than ordinary interest to the business men, was made on the 26th inst. Wm. Chamberlain and others, in November, 1862, chartered from Lawrence Gladston and others, the British brig John of Liverpool and to proceed to the Island of Ceylon to the United States, and in the contract agreed to pay plaintiffs $29,000 cash, in consideration thereof. On the delivery of the cargo the defendants paid the above amount to plaintiffs in legal-tender notes, and contended that that was a discharge of their obligation. Plaintiffs considered that only so much paid on account, and contended that the word "cash" in the contract meant specie (gold or silver). The question in relation to this point was, from the evidence, left the jury to decide, which they did, by bringing in a verdict for plaintiffs for $18,086, that being the difference in value between gold and greenbacks at the time of the delivery of the cargo, with interest added to date.

We may remark, in passing, that the ruling of Judge Smalley has caused no little surprise, and the general sentiment of the mercantile community is, that the decision cannot be sustained on appeal, since by a law of Congress greenbacks are made a legal-tender, and hence, it is claimed, they should be held in law and equity to answer the purpose of coin in the payment of all obligations or contracts made after the passage of the law in question.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, MONDAY, October 29, 1866.

There was nothing new in the produce markets to-day worthy of special notice, and the wet and inclement condition of the weather had a tendency to retard operations and restrict business, which, at best, has been rather light for some time past.

GRAIN—Wheat is quiet but very firm—sale of 2cars No. 1 Illinois Spring at $2.65. Oats in pretty good supply but unchanged—sale of 1 car—packed—at 53c; sale of small lots at 54c. Corn is in better supply and a shade easier; sale of 1 car prime Ear at $1. Barley is less active but nominally unchanged. Sale of 1 car Rye at $1.25.

FLOUR—Is firm, and moderately active but not quotably higher. We continue to quote at $12.50@13.00 for good to choice brands of Spring Wheat, and $13¾ @14.50 for Winter Wheat. Sale of 100 bbls "Bartlett," on track, at $12.75. Rye Flour is selling at $7.25, and Buckwheat at $4.50@5.00 per cwt.

PROVISIONS—Bacon is reported quiet but steady at 16¾ to 17 for Shoulders; 18 for Ribbed Sides, and 22½ to 24½ for Plain and Sugar Cured Hams. Lard is dull and heavy at 16½ to 17½—Mess Pork is held pretty firmly at $34 per bbl.

APPLES—Continue to arrive pretty freely, but as there is a fair demand for shipment, prices are pretty well sustained. We quote in a regular way at $2½ to $3 per bbl, as to quality. Sale of 2 cars choice at $3.25, delivered at Philadelphia.

CRANBERRIES—Sale of 16 bbls common, to the trade, at $14.00. In a regular way from store, we quote at $15 for common, and $20 for cultivated.

DRIED FRUIT—There is a fair demand for Peaches at 18 for quarters; 20 for Mixed, and 22 for prime halves. Apples dull and nominal at 10 to 12.

CHEESE—Is dull with a supply considerably in excess of the demand but unchanged—17 for Western Reserve; 18 for Hamburg; and 20 to 22 for Goshen.

BUTTER—Is steady for prime Roll, but common packed Butter is in good supply and apparently unsaleable. The former is selling at 30 to 33.

EGGS—Steady with a demand fully equal to the supply, and we continue to quote at 30 for fresh packed.

POTATOES—Peach Blows in good supply and very dull; Jersey Sweets are selling at $4 to $4.50 per bbl, as to quality.

HAY—Is steady with regular sales at $20 to $25 per ton, as to quality.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, MONDAY, October 29, 1866.

CRUDE—The market for Crude was again more active to-day, which was owing to a disposition on the part of holders to realize, and in order to effect sales, still further concessions were made. We can report sales of ten thousand barrels in two lots of five thousand barrels each, one thousand and eight hundred of which were delivered on the 1st of eleven cents; also, one hundred barrels, of "Smith's Ferry" oil, at 10½. As will be seen from the above, nearly twelve thousand barrels were sold, and we are of the opinion that there are yet buyers for a pretty large amount at from 10 to 11c—some of whom desire to tank it on speculation. The indications at the present writing are very favorable for a speedy resumption of navigation, though, owing to the dullness and stagnation which has prevailed for some time past, it is hardly probable that the receipts will be as large as ordinarily. Dispatches from Oil City are rather conflicting—quoting all the way from 90 to $3.25 per bbl, at that point.

REFINED—The demand for bonded oil was less active to-day compared with Saturday, though prices generally ruled firm. We can report sales of 500 bbls for November, and 500 for December, both at 31c, free on board cars here, and 500 for December delivery in Philadelphia at 32. We continue to quote at 30½ to 31, free on board cars here, and 36½ to 37, delivered in Philadelphia. For free oil, there appears to be little or no inquiry while every sale we quote at 59¼ to 51c for standard brands.

ARRIVALS—The following arrivals of oil were reported to-day: 50 for White & Bro., and 240 for Jas. Wilkins.

New York Financial Matters.

NEW YORK, October 29.—Money moderately active at five per cent. for call loans. Sterling quiet at 1,09½@1,09¾. Gold without decided change, opening at 1,45¾, advancing to 1,46¼, and closing at 1,46¾. Government stocks without any material alteration. Freights to Liverpool quiet and without any material change.

Bank Statement.—Loans, $274,725,496, decrease, $4,410,350; Specie, $5,848,234, increase, $476,752. Circulation, $39,243,457, decrease, $171,806; Deposits, $223,840,372, decrease, $1,243,228; Legal Tenders, $70,054,262, decrease, $500,341.

Stocks are better. Gold, 1,46¾. Milwaukee and St. Paul, 62½; Rock Island, 109½; Northwestern, 57¼; do preferred, 80; Cleveland and Pittsburgh, 91¾; Reading, 102¼; Erie, 85½; do. preferred, 86; New York Central, 109; Pacific Mail, 233½; Atlantic Mail, 110; Mariposa preferred, 32; Western Union Telegraph, 53; Seven-Thirties, second series, 105⅞; Five-Twenty Coupons, 1862, 114½; do. 1865, 111; Ten-Forty Coupons, 99½; Ohio and Mississippi Certificates, 35½; Michigan Southern, 62.

The Post's money article says: Gold is active and has advanced to 146¾ after opening at 146¾. The leading price is 1-32. The government remittances of one million to Barings, of which the speculators have tried to make so much, has hadvery little influence on the market. The loan market continues easy at 5 per cent. for call loans, and 5@6 for discounts. The stock market opened dull, and was afterwards firm without much change; Governments and railroad shares are irregular; Erie is strongest on the lists. After the regular board quotations were: N. Y. Central, 110½; Erie, 85¾; Hudson, 129¾; Reading, 102¾; Michigan Southern, 92¾; Pittsburgh, 91; Northwestern, 57¼; N. W. preferred, 82¼. Foreign Exchange quiet; bills at 60 days on London, quoted at 109¾@109¾; for Commercial 109¼@109¾; for bankers, do at short sight, 110@110¾.

LATEST.

The money market is easier, and at 1@5 per cent. Prime discounts are very steady and improved during the afternoon. Government securities were quiet and firm this afternoon at the following quotations: Registered '81, 113¾@113¾; coupons of '81, 113¾@113¾; 5-20s, registered, of '62, 106@106¼; 5-20 coupons of '62, 114@114¾; 5-20 coupons of '64, 110¾@110¾; 5-20 coupons of '65, 110@110¼. Foreign Exchange is again firmer. The leading bankers quote 109¾ for sixty days sterling, but buyers show a reluctance about operating at that figure. The railway market was strong and higher at the last open board, especially on Erie, Pittsburgh, Rock Island, and Northwestern preferred, which are the favorites of the street at present. Among miscellaneous stocks the great feature of the day was the rise in Pacific Mail; Western Union Telegraph was also better at the close; Mariposa shares are weak, as the clique has sold out and the public have all they want. The following were the closing prices at 4:30 p. m.: Ohio and Mississippi, 35½; Canton Co., 55; Cumberland, 36; Boston Water Power, 31½; Cumberland preferred, 49; Quicksilver, 43½; New York Central, 109@109¼; Erie, 85¾@85⅞; Hudson River, 129¾@129¾.

Hogs at Cincinnati.

CINCINNATI, October 27.—Hogs are dull, and hardly enough doing to warrant quotations. The few offered, were held at $5.50, gross, on the spot, but $8 more nearly represents the views of buyers, and one or two lots fight the averages, were obtained at this price. There was also a sale at $10.35, net, for delivery the first good weather. The Hogs to average 220 lbs net. We hear of no contracts for future delivery, the packers being unwilling to buy except at prices considerably below the views of sellers.

Philadelphia Seed Market.

PHILADELPHIA, October 27.—Cloverseed is in steady request, but with a continuation of light receipts and stocks, the transactions are small. Sales of 200 bush at $7@8 per 64 lbs for old and new crop. ## RIVER NEWS.

A heavy rain set in early yesterday morning, and it rained steadily all day with occasional intermission, and was still raining last evening, with every appearance that it would continue throughout the night. Telegrams from Oil City report heavy rains at that point during Sunday night and yesterday and a rise of four feet. The river is confidently predicted in some importance, and as the rain appears to have been general, it is altogether likely that there will be a swell in the Monongahela. At this point, the river was rising slowly last evening, with about thirty inches in the channel.

With the exception of the Parkersburg packet, Forest City, there were no arrivals or departures. There is quite a fleet of boats at Glass House, and we presume, that there will be water enough to-day to enable them to reach the wharf. Among others laid up in that vicinity, we can report the Buckeye, Silver Lake, Wanamita, Jim Rees, Wild Cat and possibly the Bellevernon.

The Wild Cat (tow boat) struck some rocks which run her up trip some where between here and Wheeling, and broke several timbers, but fortunately, she was run ashore, and the damage repaired without incurring but little injury. As above noted, she was at the foot of Glass House yesterday.

The Yorktown, which boat it will be remembered sunk at Proctor some weeks since, has been successfully raised, and yesterday she was at Georgetown waiting for water to enable her to come up and go on the dock for repairs.

Capts. W. S. Evans and D. S. H. Gilmore have purchased the well known boat store of T. M. Harton & Co., on Water street, and will continue the business at the old stand. Both of these gentlemen are popular officers of Trade of Redpath Pavilion. Yards for storage and shipment of Crude Oil at Lawrenceville.
